

Vice President Report NDLA
March 11, 2005

Preconference workshop plans for this year's conference are being made for a grantwriting workshop. Information will be presented on the National Foundation Center database and the three depositories in North Dakota. Presenters will be grantwriter Dallas Knudson and Karen Root from grant.gov.

I have contacted Robin Silverman from Grand Forks to be keynote speaker for the conference. There would be no travel expenses. Her fee is $1500. She has written several books and is an international motivational speaker. She would base her presentation on her book, Ten Simple Gifts. She would interview NDLA members to obtain information for her speech.

I have had several members request an NMRT social in conjunction with a talent show.

These are programs NDLA members have given me or I have found. I will be working on the details in the coming months. There were 30 programs last year and that is my goal for 2005. I am still looking for local arrangements people in Grand Forks.
